Captain Charles Dickens, son of Dickens, the novelist, is reported to have been killed in one of the battles with Riel, in Canada. He was in command of one of the Canadian posts.

A circular has been issued by Knevals & Ransom, New York, which gives this information: "On the 15th inst Mr. Chester A. Arthur will resume the practice of law, and connect himself with our firm as counsel."

Death loves a shining mark and has hit the Illinois legislature three times this session. Another democratic member died suddenly on Sunday. If the rest of the legislature want to escape the monster, they had better adjourn.

Miss Emma Nevada, who is now attracting large audiences at the opera festival in Chicago, receives $1,000 a night, singing three nights in a week. Patti is under contract to Colonel Mapleson for $4,000 a night and she is cheap at that price.

It seems that fame does not bring happiness to Mrs. Grant, for she has said several times of late that the happiest period in her life was when the general was clerking in Galena at $40 a month. With fame and honor came great cares, burdensome responsibilities and bitter disappointments that have made her life unhappy.

There comes from Utah the report that the Mormons are alarmed over the probability that their annual conference will adjourn without having a special revelation from heaven. There has been an unwonted dearth of revelations since Brigham Young died. He succeeded much better as an advocate with heaven while he was in the flesh than since his spiritual translation.

Twelve years ago the Wyoming stock growers association numbered ten members, and owned 20,300 head of cattle, valued at $350,000. To-day it has 435 members owning 2,000,000 head of cattle, whose value is estimated at $100,000,000. Its sway extends over the whole of Wyoming and portions of six other states and territories, and it is without doubt the largest association of the kind in the world.

The thirty-seventh session of the Wisconsin legislature adjourned to-day, (Monday) being in session 89 days. The following table will show the length of sessions since 1866:

| Session. | No. days. | Session. | No. days. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1866 | 98 | 1876 | 63 |
| 1867 | 99 | 1877 | 58 |
| 1868 | 69 | 1879 | 76 |
| 1869 | 83 | 1879 | 57 |
| 1870 | 55 | 1880 | 64 |
| 1871 | 74 | 1881 | 63 |
| 1872 | 77 | 1883 | 80 |
| 1873 | 72 | 1883 | 85 |
| 1874 | 58 | 1884 | (no session) |
| 1875 | 58 | 1885 | 89 |

It will be seen that the session just closed was the longest since 1867 when the session extended through 93 days.

The country will be glad to hear that ex-United States Senator Nesmith, of Oregon, will probably recover from an attack of insanity, for which he was confined to an asylum some six months ago. There are hopes that he will fully regain his health. Mr. Nesmith is a man of generous impulses and is a gentleman of sterling worth. When he used to live on his great farm in Oregon, he often invited his poor neighbors especially those whose crops failed, to go to his granaries and fill their wagons without money and without price. His generosity made him a public benefactor.

Pension Commissioner Black to Miss Ada Sweet:

My dearest Miss Sweet,
I think it but meet
You should forward me your resignation;
So please don't delay,
Let it come right away,
And relieve me for my situation.

You have a kind heart,
And I trust you will part
With the prize, and relieve my distress;
So send it along,
And in a Sweet song
The "thirsty" your kindness will bless.

Miss Ada Sweet, pension agent, to General Black:

I really don't see
How we can agree,
So diverse are your interests and mine;
But this I will say,
'Twill be a long day
Before I'll be coaxed to resign.

The publishers of the Century Magazine announce that the editions of that publication are now so large that it has become necessary either to go to press at an earlier date or to postpone the day of issue. The latter alternative has been accepted. The April number, the edition of which was 225,000, was delayed until the 25th of March. The May number—edition, 250,000—will be issued on the 1st day of May, thus inaugurating with the first number of the thirtieth volume a change which has long been considered desirable by the publishers, and which it is believed will be heartily commended by the public. Future numbers of The Century Magazine will be issued on the 1st day of the month of which each bears date. We think the new departure of the matter of publication is a sensible one.

INSANITY AND MURDER.

Before George H. Mills was hanged on Friday for the murder of his wife, he made the extraordinary request that his brain should be examined after his death to settle the question of his sanity. During the trial, his attorneys attempted to work upon the sympathies of the jury by the too frequent plea of insanity, but the jury found him guilty. Mills declared that there was something the matter with his head and wanted the post mortem held to satisfy the public that he could not be held accountable for the murder. But notwithstanding the entreaty of the murderer, his brain was not examined after his death.

The reading public will remember the case of Gus Johnson, the most murderous character that ever existed. He began his murders at seventeen, his first victim being a negro whom he met riding a mule on a country road, and whom he shot and killed simply because he would not get off the mule when ordered. Cutting off his right ear Johnson put it in his pocket and carried it for several years as a trophy. Wishing to cross a river one day he had to wait some time for the ferryman to bring the boat from the opposite side. He shot the man for being slow, and after cutting off the victim's great toe threw the body into the river. Johnson killed because liked it, but his mother stood by him to the last, declaring that he was not responsible for his acts. She testified at his trial that when a young boy Johnson was struck on the head with an ax; the blow opened his skull and a small portion of his brain oozed out. It could not be put back, and the loss of it, she asserted, changed him from a tender-hearted boy to the cold-blooded murderer that he was.

But after Johnson was hanged, an examination was held and his brain was found to be in a normal condition.

THE WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE.

The present Wisconsin legislature, if it shall adjourn on Monday next as is now expected, will have held the longest session of any legislature since 1867. And, as with stupid stories, so with average legislative sessions, the extremely long are the extremely weak. The record of accomplished work at Madison during the past winter is not a record over which the members of the legislature or the people of the state have reason to be proud.—Evening Wisconsin.

The first biennial session of the legislature may not have been conspicuously great, but it was not "extremely long," neither was it "extremely weak." It did some good things, and can not be charged with sins of omission, except, perhaps, of failing to get down to work in the early part of the session. But this weakness is common to all legislatures in all states and to congress itself. The legislature did a fair amount of work and did its work well and deserves thanks instead of censure.

The work of the session, that is the principal laws enacted, are as follows:

Increasing liquor license to $200 annually in all the cities of the state.

Improving the efficiency of the Wisconsin national guard.

Allowing the state insurance commissioner to effectually eradicate "underground," or "wildcat" companies.

Increasing the telephone tax to 1½ per cent and the palace-car tax to 4 per cent on gross receipts in this state.

Providing for the compilation and publication of the state war records.

Establishing a school for dependent and neglected children.

Increasing the annual appropriations to all agricultural fairs, the total appropriations being $50,400.

Preventing gambling or lager beer selling on fair grounds in this state.

Giving women the right to vote at school elections.

Providing for the appointment of a state pension agent (Colonel J. A. Watrous, of Milwaukee, getting the appointment.)

Purchasing an executive residence at Madison at a cost of $20,000.

Creating two new counties—Oneida and Fairchild.

Appropriating $190,000 to science hall, and accompanying buildings at the state university.

VILAS AND THE POLITICIANS.

Within a few days there will be a conference of Wisconsin democrats in Washington, with reference to dividing up the political spoils of the state. That conference should have been held last January, but on account of Congressman Rankin's sickness, it was postponed. Rankin has returned to Washington, and the fate of Wisconsin office-seekers will soon be settled. It is said that Colonel Vilas and General Bryant will participate in the conference, and the present outlook is that entire harmony will prevail in the distribution of the federal offices of the state. Thus far, Colonel Vilas has vouchsafed no encouragement to the hundreds of applicants who have been writing him almost daily in their eagerness to get what they wanted. "I never was so disappointed in any man in all my life," said one democrat; "in our state conventions he used to be as human as any of us, but now you can't touch him any more than you could an angel."

It is generally known that offices have come to the Wisconsin democrats very slowly since Cleveland's inauguration, and this has caused much talk and uneasiness among the democrats who expected that with the coming of March would come the spoils for which they had so long hungered; and it was believed that Colonel Vilas would work with energy to distribute the offices and not only thus give the party a boom, but would boom himself. On this point General Bryant, the assistant attorney for the post-office department, makes public this statement.

"They say in Wisconsin that Vilas come in here simply to use the patronage in his state to turn it over to the democrats and secure his own election to the senate two years hence. Nothing is, or ever was further from his mind. The democrats of Wisconsin would, no doubt be glad to see him succeed Sawyer in the senate, but they know very well that Bill Vilas is almost anything but a politician and he would neither try if he knew how to it, nor know how to do it if he wanted to get to the senate. Vilas came into the postoffice department a good deal as a pretty girl goes into a nunnery. He just put the world, the flesh and the devil of politics behind him and went in for purity and reform in the government. He is as proud of his clean reputation as a boy of a big kite. Nothing ever made him so happy in public life as to be picked out of the west as the fit man to go into the cabinet. He is the last man in the world to throw up his hands in a hard fight, and you may take my word for it he is going to hold on here and make this administration so far as the postoffice department is concerned, a thorough success. To-day he has been out house hunting, which doesn't look like quitting just yet. He did not intend a fortnight ago to take a house at present, but the low rents in the spring of the year make it worth while for him to get a house on a long lease."

WARNING THE BULLS.

THE NEW YORK SUN MAN PIPES A NOTE OF CAUTION

And Says It Will Not Pay to Trust Too Much to a Short Wheat Crop This Year—The General Reduction.

NEW YORK, April 13.—In its Wall street column The Sun says: That distinguished and quite clever ex-Englishman, Mr. Henry Clews, has been instructing the world at large about the effect that a European war will have on this country. Mr. Clows says if war be declared between England and Russia the flag of the land of his nativity would be driven from the ocean by the flag of the land of his adoption. Considering that there are not a score of steamers flying the American flag, and vessels can not be built in a few weeks; as Wall street chronics are, it is hard to see how our naval supremacy is to be brought about. This is a good sample of the wild manner in which some Wall street men talk of what war will do for this country. Leaving, however, the whole question of war aside there are certain influences which must sooner or later affect the stock market. There is a universal reduction in rates, a constant reduction in dividends, a considerable reduction in traffic, an alarming reduction in the number of investors, and quite a pronounced one even in the number of speculators. A moment's thought will suggest a host of great speculators who have retired. Mr. Gould and Mr. Sage are no longer active. Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Field are bidding a farewell to Wall street. Mr. Woerishoffer is reported to have the intention of retiring. Mr. Keene is out of the market, and so is Mr. D. O. Mills. That distinguished trio, Cammack, Osborn, and Treavers are no longer as energetic as of yore, and a new contingent is now in command. Among the new-comers Deacon White, Messrs. Slayback, Louis Bell, and Charley Johns are the most prominent, but their puny efforts are but petty skirmishes in comparison with the great battles fought by their predecessors.

Wheat has been unusually active, and had a sharp advance of nearly 10 cents a bushel during the last week. The war news helped this movement quite as much as did the reports of damage to the winter wheat. Of course, the actual amount of this damage can not be ascertained, and it is of vital interest to bull speculators to have reports of this nature exaggerated as much as possible. But the advance which has already been made ought to cover all contingencies, and that for more than one excellent reason. The price is high in itself, and precludes export; the prospects of the Indian crops are excellent, and the Australian crops, which have been immense, are already beginning to move. Our visible supply is twice as large as that of the same period of 1883, and about 50 per cent. larger than that of 1884; and, finally, the acres of killed winter wheat will be replaced by twice or thrice that amount of spring sowing, if prices are maintained on their present level. Several further reasons could be brought forward why wheat should not go up in price, but these are sufficient to make outside speculators think twice before they embark in bulling wheat upon the advice of Chicago manipulators.

Corn also had an advance, but by no means out of proportion with its intrinsic value at the present moment. According to the last report of the agricultural bureau, the country has but 33 per cent of its last year's crop left in the cribs. Usually at this time of the year almost the whole crop of the proceeding year is on hand, for the farmers never sell corn at low prices, and but keep it for the use of themselves, their cattle, and their hogs. The visible supply is reported at 10,530,000 bushels, against 17,000,000 and 13,000,000 odd last year and the year before last, yet the price is by several cents lower than last year. Of course the figures of the agricultural bureau are much more significant, for they are supposed to give the grand total for the whole country, while the so-called "visible supply" comprises only the stock accumulated in the great distributing points. One of the great corn-carrying roads with a cribbing capacity of between 12,000,000 and 17,000,000 bushels is known to have now but 1,500,000 in store, but of course tries to conceal the fact, for it would naturally affect the market of its securities.

STRIKING FOR THE SASKATCHEWAN.

A Prospect of War News from Manitoba if Some One Don't Run.

WINNIPEG, April 13.—A report from Gen. Middleton Sunday night states that his force is within thirty miles of Humboldt, and making good progress. It will take four or five days to reach the Saskatchewan. The half-breeds are known to be on the east side of the river, but no trouble is anticipated, at least until the crossing is reached.

It was rumored around the city Sunday that there had been an engagement and a number of the Ninetieth rifles killed. This is ascertained to be untrue, and had no foundation in fact.

Riel's army is said to be very strong and well disciplined, but it is not thought he will do open battle. Scouts will be hurried on to reconnoiter and find out, if possible, what his intentions are.

It would appear from the story told by an Indian who took part in the Frog Lake massacre that bloody work was committed. An Indian chief asked the whites to go over to his tent for parley. While in the tent, a band of Indians, prompted for the occasion, at once attacked the whites, who fought with knives and revolvers which they carried. They succeeded in killing several redskins and wounding others, but they were soon overpowered and killed outright.

Election Judges Arrested.

CHICAGO, April 13.—The three judges who served at the Third precinct of the Third ward in this city, were arrested Saturday, charged with neglect of duty, at the instance of City Clerk Neumeister. The three gentlemen—Howland, Quinlin and Todd—say they can prove that the charge is wrong. It is thought that Neumeister had the arrests made for the purpose of making a record of the facts. The three ballot-boxes which were stolen from this precinct have not been found. O'Keefe and Filio, the two men arrested, have had their trial postponed, and the officers are now on the track of one Condon, who is said to have been a third in in the party of ballot thieves.

Did Buckner Poison His Wife.

MUNCIE, Ind., April 13.—Mrs. William Buckner died early Saturday morning at the house of a relative. She went there Friday night very ill, and said her husband had poisoned her. Her dying words reiterated the charge. Buckner and his wife had lived unhappily together. Buckner says she must have committed suicide. There is much excitement over the affair.

The striking workmen of the McCormick reaper factory in Chicago have resumed labor at an advance of 10 per cent. to the day workers and of 15 per cent. to the piece hands.

RESTLESS AND FAILING.

GEN. GRANT SAID TO BE VERY CLOSE TO THE END.

The Continued Assaults of the Disease Leave Him Weaker Each Time—Growing Less Patient and Tractable—The House on Sixty-Sixth Street.

CHICAGO, April 13.—The following bulletin has been received, showing Gen. Grant's condition at midnight on Sunday:

Gen. Grant has been troubled during the latter part of the afternoon, and the entire evening with an increase of mucous secretion in his throat and has coughed considerably in consequence. He has also suffered from two attacks of choking and he breathed with difficulty. These were relieved by local applications, and the phlegm was removed. He is now dozing in his chair after having slept on the bed for three hours. Pulse, 72; temperature, normal.

GEORGE F. SHRADY, M. D.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Gen. Grant's condition Sunday was not quite so favorable. The fit of coughing which he experienced late Saturday night seemed to have had a bad effect upon his general condition, and for several hours he was very restless, and, although under the influence of morphine, he was able to obtain but very little sleep until 4 a. m., when he succeeded in dozing for nearly two hours. The first bulletin issued was at 6 o'clock. It said: "Gen. Grant, after 11 o'clock (Saturday), had a quiet night. At 4 a. m. he fell into a natural slumber, from which he has just awakened." From 6 to 8 o'clock he was again somewhat restless, and walked several times from his bed-room to the library. After this he became more quiet and took some nourishment with apparent relish.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock the regular weekly consultation of physicians was held, there being present Drs. Barker, Sands, Shrady and Douglas. The patient's throat was thoroughly examined and it was understood that his condition was about the same as at the last consultation and that the treatment pursued was approved by all. The patient was again restless during the afternoon, and had very little sleep. Ex-Senator Chaffee, who left the house at 5:30 p. m. said the general, in his opinion, was a little weaker. He thought that the patient's physical strength might be kept up until the cancer killed him. He might last some time and his sickness might terminate fatally at any moment. Among the callers during the day were Stephen B. Elkins, Roscoe Conkling, ex-Governor Leland Stanford, ex-Lieutenant Governor Dorshoimer, Gen. Fry, Cyrus W. Field, and C. H. Collis.

The 8 o'clock bulletin was as follows: "Gen. Grant has been very quiet since the fit of coughing last night. He has taken his nourishment regularly and is well as usual; pulse, 72; temperature, 99."

Gen. Grant has of late become somewhat less tractable, particularly when he is suffering, as he does in the coughing fits. On such occasions he manifests a wish to be let alone, and does not submit readily to the efforts of the doctors to relieve him. This was particularly the case during his sufferings on Saturday night. He moved impatiently about from his chair to his bed and seemed to give little heed to his physicians' suggestions.

About 9 o'clock Sunday a personal friend of Col. Fred Grant called to secure the general's autograph. Col. Grant hesitated some moments, and then said: "I think it it will be impossible. I don't think my father will ever sign anything." Late in the evening Col. Grant said: "Father is very low, but I do not think the end will come tonight." To indicate the general's decline he said that four days ago he had walked from the front to the rear of the house without apparent exhaustion or difficulty. Each day, however, he has moved about less. On Saturday, when he walked through the hall to the rear of the house, he stopped to rest before returning. Twice during that afternoon he walked into his office. He remained there an hour at one time and a quarter of an hour less at another, conversing briefly with those who were near. But, however, on one occasion he left his room because the burning of a deodorizer in the room irritated his throat. "I can't stand that," he remarked, as he left the room, referring to the odor that is used to purify the air of the sick chamber.

The doctors believe, and do not make concealment of their opinions with such of the family and friends as can approach them for a frank expression in private, that the general is about to start rapidly again on the down grade. This would be expected from the natural course of the disease, which is one of downs and ups, with a constant downward tendency. After an attack the patient never rallies to the average condition that preceded the attack. This is conspicuously true in Gen. Grant's case. It has now been ten days since the family were summoned to what was supposed to be the death scene. The bulletins since then have indicated almost uninterrupted improvement. There was certainly a stimulated rally and two or three nights passed in profound sleep. But as a whole the past week was one of failing strength—a steady advance toward complete exhaustion. The only doctor in whom the family repose implicit confidence, frankly announced this conclusion of it.

THE HOUSE GRANT LIVES IN.

Some Description of It and How It Is Furnished and Decorated.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The house where the patient sufferer keeps up so heroically; where his wife and his children gather about him so lovingly; where the favorite child Nellie, who came to him from across the sea, waits on him, and nurses him, will henceforth remain a sacred and historical spot, in the memories of the whole people, who come to love him as he nears the grave. This mansion is on the northwest side of the street and separated from Fifth avenue by one large vacant lot. It is a double, four-story, brown stone front, having a southern exposure, with four lofty windows on the side next to the vacant lot. Just across Fifth avenue is Central park, an excellent view of which may be commanded from any of the front windows. The location is one of the best in the city, surrounded by costly residences, whose occupants help make up the wealthy, refined and aristocratic elements of the metropolis. In this spacious mansion Gen. Grant is passing the last and sad days of his great career.

Gen. Grant's house originally cost $150,000 unfurnished. The contract price for building it was $110,000, but the general got it for $72,000, and furnished it at a cost of $25,000. This amount does not of course cover the value of the almost innumerable relics and mementoes it contains. Ascending nine brown stone steps the visitor is ushered into a spacious hallway, lofty, tiled and inlaid with mosaic. The walls and ceilings are tinted grey. On the wall facing the entrance to the drawing-room is an inlaid monogram of Gen. Grant. A Moorish lantern overhead furnishes light for the hall. Brazen small arms support the lantern. The woodwork of the hall is carved in antique figures. Against the left wall stands a massive leather-covered sofa, and a short distance away is a unique chair supported by elephant's tusks. This chair was presented to the general by the maharajah of Dilla. Several costly and beautiful engravings, heavily framed, hang on the walls of the hallway, the principal one being a massive bronze containing medallion relief portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Grant. This work was a gift to the general.

On the first floor are four rooms. The high ceiling and the size of the drawing-room give it the appearance of a small hall. The ceiling and walls of this apartment are decorated in dark or Moorish tints, giving it a sort of Oriental appearance. The carpet is of the heavy Axminster manufacture, and on it a big rug, especially imported from India. The finish of the room is carved rosewood, of which a good deal of its furniture is framed. Some of the furniture is richly gilded, while some is covered with heavy embossed vari-colored silk, thickly laid in with Japanese gold embroidery.

Probably the most magnificent ornament in the room is an agate cabinet grotesquely formed, on the front of which is engraved Gen. Grant's monogram, encircled by a laurel wreath. The cabinet also contains two massive slabs of onyx, the gift of a Mexican nobleman. Among various other ornaments in the parlor is a handsome folding screen, presented to him during his travels in Japan. This article is covered with exquisite embroidery representing wonderful specimens of Japanese poultry. A number of other elegant cabinets are in different parts of the room, bric-a-brac, onyx pedestals, a saddle beautifully ornamented in lacquer work, and a lot of other tokens of esteem presented to the general by the mikado of Japan. There is a fine marble bust of Gen. Grant in the recess of a bay window.

The library opens out of the drawing-room. This is decorated in Venetian red. A large and heavy Persian rug lies in the middle of the floor, which is made of oak, ebony and rosewood. A Bengal tiger's skin stretches before a spacious fireplace, which is surrounded by brasswork. The library furniture is covered by Turkish and Persian embroideries. Standing near the back wall is a heavy cabinet of dark wood containing various gifts to the general during his trip around the world. A curious cane that was once the property of Lafayette, the relic having been presented to Gen. Grant by Baltimore ladies, stands in a corner. On the walls are seen pictures, small arms and pieces of old steel armor, and the curtains are made of Persian material. The book-cases contain 5,000 volumes. The books were presented to the general by Bostonians.

A large table, covered with manuscripts, scrap-books and newspaper clippings, stands in the centre of the library. At this table the old hero has written and revised his war reminiscences in a big, high-backed chair. Here, too, he has sat and mused and chatted during his illness.

CHOLERA SCARE AT CLEVELAND.

Two Mysterious Deaths Which Worry the Authorities.

CLEVELAND, April 13.—Saturday, April 4, Will C. Russell, a young son of a poor woman living at 21 Alum street, died after an illness of only twelve hours. His body turned black almost immediately, and was buried by the infirmary authorities. Last Saturday morning another son, Charles, died after a similarly brief illness, and his body also turned black at once. In both cases the symptoms were violent purging and vomiting, accompanied by a general breaking down of the system.

When the second death occurred the infirmary authorities notified the district physician, who acquainted the board of health with the circumstances, and that body, together with the coroner, is conducting a quiet investigation. Mrs. Russell's three remaining children were stricken Saturday with similar symptoms and are dangerously ill.

The sanitary condition of the city is peculiarly favorable to an epidemic of cholera. The streets and alleys are in a filthy condition, many of the latter containing innumerable dead rats and other decaying animal and vegetable matter. The Cuyahoga river, which passes through the city into Lake Erie, is a receptacle for the refuse from many large manufactories and a large part of the sewage of the city. The stream is now stationary, and when warm weather comes is certain to send up a vapor laden with the germs of disease.

LATER.—A post mortem examination in the cases of the two children who died, has revealed the fact that the disease was not cholera, but colitis, or inflammation of the transverse colon, an infantile disease.

Badly Damaged by Fire.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 13.—About 7:30 Sunday morning fire was discovered in the upper story of the Stillman, the new hotel on Euclid avenue, and in half an hour the entire mansard roof and the floor below were completely burned out. The floors of the building being fire-proof, prevented the flames from spreading below the upper story. The building, however, was flooded by water, which ran through to the lower floors, doing much damage to the furniture, etc. The guests and help of the hotel all escaped without injury. The damage by fire and water is estimated at $65,000.

Another Society for Irish Independence.

CHICAGO, April 13.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of Irishmen was held Sunday afternoon to complete the organization of a society to be known as "Irish crusaders," having for its object the elevation of the Irish race, independence of Ireland, and active hostilities toward England in case the latter country becomes involved in war with Russia. Necessity for something besides agitation was urged. W. E. Fitzpatrick was elected president. The election of remaining officers and adoption of a constitution was deferred till next Sunday. A committee was appointed to meet O'Donovan Rossa on his arrival here next Tuesday.

Cut in Freight Rates.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The New York Central & Hudson River railroad was asked to reduce its freight rates to Chicago, but declined, saying the road was satisfied with the present rates. Superintendent Bullen, at Mr. Fink's office said that no reduction had been made. The "Sunset" line, of 339 Broadway, will reduce its rates to California and the south 20 per cent. on Monday. Rates which have been 50 and 40 will hereafter be 40 and 30. This reduction is made to meet offers of small roads. It is below the rates of the New York Central and Erie roads.

International Parcel Posts Asked For.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 13.—The postal departments of Germany and England have asked the United States to establish parcel posts with those countries, but Postmaster General Vilas has replied that it will require congressional legislation on the subject before he can comply with their requests.

BOSTON, April 13.—The twentieth anniversary of the assassination of President Lincoln was observed at the Soldiers' Carnival Sunday by 1,000 members of the Grand Army of the Republic. The ceremonies of the order were performed, the ritual read and an oration delivered by ex-Attorney General Devins.

Again Postponed by Death.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., April 13.—Representative J. Henry Shaw, of Beardstown, was found dead in his room at the Palace hotel Sunday morning; cause unknown. Governor Oglesby will call a new election immediately. The Democrats will be unable to accomplish anything in the senatorial contest for twenty days at least.

A Hoosier Sheep Story.

MUNCIE, Ind., April 13.—Mr. Snyder, a farmer of Delaware county, has a flock of sheep which was loose during the cold weather. Lying down upon the frozen ground each night, they froze fast and had to be chopped loose every morning. They now look from the amount of wool lost as if roughly shorn.

The Most Precious of Gifts.

Health is undeniably a more precious gift than riches, honor or power. Who would exchange it for these, the chief objects of human ambition? It is obviously the part of wisdom to employ means for the preservation of health and the prolongation of life which time and experience have proved to be reliable. Many of the dangers by which health is threatened may be nullified by the use of that most irresistable of correctives and tonics Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which by increasing vital power and rendering the physical functions regular and active, keeps the system in good working order and protects it against disease. For constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaint, nervousness, kidney and rheumatic ailments and neuralgia, it is invaluable, and it affords a sure defence against malarial fevers, besides removing every trace of such disease from the system. Half a wine glassful taken before meals improves the appetite, and insures complete digestion and assimilation.

FISH IN HOT WATER.

The New York Ex-Banker Contemplating a Residence in State's Prison.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The jury in the case of the United States against James D. Fish, president of the Marine National bank, returned a verdict at 12:22 o'clock Sunday morning. It was that Fish was guilty of mi-appropriation of the funds of the bank of which he was president and Ferdinand Ward was cashier. There were fourteen counts in the indictment, and on eleven counts he was found guilty. The defendant was present with his attorney, and seemed greatly surprised at the result. He was immediately taken to the Ludlow Street jail, where he occupied the cell recently vacated by Becky Jones. The statute classifies the crime which the accused was charged with into three acts, misapplication of funds, abstraction of funds, and false entries. Fourteen counts of the indictment were fourteen separate charges, and called for so many decisions. The first four counts, which charged the loan of $40,000, $60,000, $110,000, and $165,000 to the firm of Grant & Ward, were identical. Fish can be sent to prison for from five to ten years on each count.

RUSSIANS ADVANCING

IN A DIRECTION THAT LEADS TO HERAT—KOMAROFF'S REPORT.

He Tells a Story of the Late Fight That Is Hooted at by the British—The Prospects Uncertain—Foreign Items.

LONDON, April 13.—A dispatch received at the war office from Sir Peter Lumsden, at Tirpul, says the Russian army is advancing down the Murghab river.

Russia Will Not Yield an Inch.

LONDON, April 13.—The Daily Telegraph's Berlin dispatch says that Gen. Komaroff has been appointed commander-in-chief of the Russian army in Turkestan, and asserts that Russia refuses to yield an inch.

Komaroff's Explanation.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 13.—The Pravetelstvonni Viestnik (government messenger) publishes a telegram from Gen. Komaroff explaining the cause of his battle with the Afghans on March 30. On March 25 the dispatch says, the Afghans encamped in force on the Russian bank of the Kushk river. Wishing to avoid a conflict Komaroff paid no attention to them except to keep a close watch upon their movements. Finding themselves unmolested the Afghans became more bold as accessions to their numbers from time to time arrived, and finally captured a commanding position on the heights, driving back the Russian pickets, who occupied it, and advancing their own picket line. Komaroff thereupon requested the Afghan commander to withdraw to the opposite bank of the river. The Afghan leader refused to comply with this request, saying that he was acting entirely upon the advice of British officials. A second request, couched in the most friendly terms, was made, but to this no answer was returned. Komaroff, then hoping to intimidate the Afghans by an aggressive movement, advanced a part of his army, when the Afghans opened fire upon them. The Russians then advanced in force and made short work of the Afghans.

The Russian press unanimously declare that Komaroff's explanation is a sufficient reply to England's demand. Work at the imperial arsenals is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and a largely augmented force of artisans is employed night and day.

Lieut. Gen. Obrietchoff, the conqueror of Moukhtar Pasha in the Russo-Turkish war, will, it is said, proceed at once to Merv to assume command of the Russian army.

The arrest of Ayoub Khan, ex-ameer of Afghanistan at Teheran, at the instance of the British minister, has created no little excitement here. The press denounces the arrest as unjustified and outrageous.

LONDON, April 13.—There is now an almost unanimous consensus of opinion that England has been outwitted by Russian diplomacy. But the chances of peace are distinctly improved, and the most cool-headed observers believe that all reasonable excuse for further puttering is destroyed. The ground for this belief is the general conviction that the cabinet must regard Gen. Komaroff's dispatch regarding the battle on the Kushk, and its antecedent manoeuvres, as being virtually Russia's reply to Lord Granville's demand for an explanation.

The cabinet, however, will now be forced to speak. It is expected that Mr. Gladstone will make a statement in the house of commons. Its contents, however, are not expected to astonish any one, and have already been discounted at the Carlton club and in Capel court. The Tories and the bulls believe that the premier will say in effect that the Afghans provoked and deserved the thrashing they got. This assertion will, of course, be glossed with phrases of sympathy and regret. It may also be accompanied by the statement that Russia has made some important concessions regarding the southern limit of the debatable zone.

Although the peace side of the balances is slowly rising, the executive departments are relaxing none of the vigor of their preparations for war. The full force of officers and artisans at Woolwich arsenal has been worked throughout the Sabbath day and night, preparing heavy sea ordnance.

The fact that Gen. Komaroff has been appointed commander-in-chief over Turkestan, and that Russia is sending forces rapidly to Afghanistan, together with a Sunday summons for an early cabinet meeting is universally regarded by the press as meaning immediate war. There must be added to this another fact of two Russian men-of-war in the Suez canal being ordered to Vladivostock, with directions to avoid British ports.

The Standard, in an editorial, says:

"Gen. Komaroff's statement is an elaborate effort to justify his attack, but not a syllable shows that he received orders from St. Petersburg not to advance. Everything tends to indicate that he did not receive such orders."

The Times in an editorial says: "Gen. Komaroff makes no excuse for his fresh advance. He admits that he did not see the Afghans until near the bridge. This admission from such a source that the Afghans had not advanced is valuable. Gen. Komaroff deliberately went in search of the Afghan intrenchment, sat down within easy shelling distance, threw out an advanced guard to seize any undisputed convenient position, and sent an ultimatum demanding that the Afghans evacuate their position. He then marched forward and made an attack."

Russia Will Blow Up the Suez Canal.

LONDON, April 13.—Mr. Charles Marvin, the journalist, and author of several works on Central Asia, in a lecture at Sunderland Saturday night warned the government that in case of war the Russians would probably attempt to blockade the Suez canal, either by sinking vessels or blowing up with dynamite certain rocky parts of the sides or bottom of the waterway. The Observer says that the Russian 'cruisers' Nostronia and Petersburg, have been passing back and forth through the canal for a week past, and urges the necessity of watching their movements closely.

The Tower Explosion Suspects.

LONDON, April 13.—Stephen J. Meaney, who is acting as counsel for Burton and Cunningham, arrived at Queenstown Sunday. To a press representative he said that his visit to the United States in search of evidence had been most successful. He had procured evidence clearly establishing an alibi for Burton, and expressed his belief that there could be no evidence brought against Cunningham that would convict him. "There is," he said, "no direct evidence against Cunningham except the fact that he was in the Tower when the explosion occurred."

Another Earthquake in Spain.

MADRID, April 13.—Severe shocks of earthquake occurred in various parts of the provinces of Malaga, Murcia and Granada Saturday and Sunday. The damage done was very great, and the sufferings of already homeless and starving people are very much increased.

Decorated the Ameer.

RAWAL PINDI, April 13.—Ameer Abdurrahman left for Cabul Sunday. Previous to his departure a grand review of the army took place and the ameer was invested with the insignia of the order of the Grand Cross of India. He expressed himself as being greatly pleased with his visit, praised the troops and hoped that the friendship between India and Afghanistan might be eternal.

What Wales Was Heard to Say.

DUBLIN, April 13.—The prince of Wales was overheard to remark to a guest at the ball given in his honor at Dublin castle, that he was never more gratified with any reception since the princess first came to England.

Egyptian Taxation.

CAIRO, April 13.—The Egyptian government has determined to abolish the export dues and reduce the navigation dues on cereals. The duty on foreign tobacco will be increased, and a special license required to sell the same.

A Blue Prospect.

LONDON, April 13.—Owing to the severe draught in the districts of Bengal and Betar the indigo yield will be very small.

EXPIRING STATE LEGISLATURES.

Some Bills That Have Eluded the Vigilance of the Solons of Two States.

MADISON, Wis., April 13.—Saturday there were but eight senators and about a dozen representatives to witness the closing ceremonies of the legislature, which adjourned Monday noon. The amount of money actually appropriated by the legislature during the past season was $1,626,476.55. These figures include $500,000 as a special tax levied for the support of common schools. Among the more important measures passed by the legislature this session are the following: Establishing state public schools for dependent and neglected children; conferring school suffrage upon women; increasing the minimum saloon license from $75 to $200; to enable the insurance commissioners to effectually suppress "underground" companies; increasing telephone tax to 1½ per cent. and palace car tax to 4 per cent. on gross receipts in this state; doubling the school fund tax; establishing two fish and game wardens; providing for agricultural institutes; increasing annual appropriations to all agricultural fairs, with the proviso that there be no gambling or liquor selling on the grounds; increasing the appropriation for the bureau of labor statistics; for the appointment of a state pension agent; creating the new counties of Oneida and Forest. Every bill hostile to railroad, telegraph, and express companies was killed.

Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 13.—At noon Monday the legislature adjourned sine die, having been in session ninety-five days. It has passed 150 bills and appropriated $4,500,000. The principal laws enacted are those for the completion of the new state house, and insane hospitals at Logansport, Richmond, and Evansville; authorizing temporary loans on the part of the state amounting to $1,000,000; and the congressional and legislative apportionment bills.

Both houses were in session until midnight Saturday night. The most important action taken was in the defeat of the bill prohibiting the manufacture of oleomargarine in the state.

The state senate passed a bill limiting the price for rental of telephones to $3 per month, with a further reduction of 50 cents where two or more instruments are used by the same firm. The bill had previously passed the house, and now awaits the governor's signature.

What Senator Sherman Thinks of the Outlook.

CINCINNATI, April 13.—Senator Sherman was enthusiastically received on 'change Saturday, and in the course of his speech said: "I congratulate you on the general business outlook. All nations have been pinched financially for a time, but none so little as the United States, and the improved condition of affairs is a subject for congratulation. Even the party change in our government is not an unmixed evil. The Democrats will have a chance at the books, and I believe they will find them all right and the money all there and accounted for. I hope they will leave them in as good condition as they find them. It will be a satisfaction to me, and I believe they will. I expect the affairs of this nation to be administered honestly, and I am convinced that the head of the government entertains the best intentions. War is a great evil. I want to see no more of it, but if the nations of Europe will make war, its effect upon our merchants and producers will not cause them any dissatisfaction."

What It Cost an Irish Paper to Support Blaine.

NEW YORK, April 13.—An action has been begun against The Irish Nation Publishing company for the recovery of debts incurred during the late political campaign, and which, according to The Irish Nation of Saturday, "have been left unpaid because of the financial losses which the paper suffered as a direct consequence of its supporting the Republican candidate." The Nation says its subscribers are heavily in arrears, and that unless money comes in this week it must suspend. Many thousand copies of the paper, it is understood, were gratuitously distributed during the campaign, and Mr. John Devoy, the editor, was one of the Republican stump speakers.

Death of a Famous Abolitionist.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 13.—Dr. Jefferson Church, one of the best-known physicians in western Massachusetts and an old anti-slavery worker, died Saturday, aged 82. He formerly lived where the opera house now stands, and his residence was frequently the hiding-place of fugitive slaves en route for Canada. He was a warm friend of John Brown, Wendell Phillips, William Lloyd Garrison, Parker Pillsbury, and other anti-slavery pioneers.

New State Senator Elected.

CARROLLTON, Ills., April 13.—The senatorial election was very quiet; but very few townships of this country have yet been heard from. The Carrollton vote was 243, all of which were for the regular Democratic nominee, Robert S. Davis. Advices from Scott and Jersey say that there was no Republican ticket in the field, and a fair vote was cut for Davis. There was no Republican ticket in this county, and the vote will probably reach 1,500.

Newspaper Change in Washington City.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 13.—The Evening Critic, which has for the last three years been principally owned by Thomas J. Brady, was sold last week to several gentlemen, who are to take possession and charge of the paper at once. Mr. Richard H. Sylvester, who has been for five years connected with The Post, of this city, as managing editor, or editorial writer, is to be editor of The Critic.

O'Donovan Rossa at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 13.—O'Donovan Rossa arrived here from Cincinnati at 10 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and was visited by less than a dozen people, none of whom were of any prominence. At night he lectured at McAuley's theatre to 100 people. His advent here caused little interest.

The Duty of State Legislatures.

Legislation in every state should regulate the sale and use of the many poisons resorted to by women in their desperation to obtain a beautiful complexion. There exists in Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic every requisite to accomplish the object without injuring health or endangering life.

Wants the Facts Known.

Mr. Editor:—I and my neighbors have been led so many times into buying different things for the liver, kidneys and blood that have done us more harm than good, I feel it due your readers to advise them, when an honest and good medicine like Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic can be had.

Very truly, AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Hints to Nurses.
[Brattleboro Household.]

Never stand at the foot of a sick bed and survey the patient. All figures loom large to fevered eyes, and by the side of the bed are only partly seen, and do not annoy with the sense of too much presence. Do not open the door very slowly, for then the attention is strained, speculating as to who the next comer can possibly be after all this preparation and with such cautious approach. Low but clear tones, quiet but sure movements, and rapid, rather than slow, are a great relief to any patient who is blessed with a practical nurse.

Whispering is torture. Silence is best until you can discuss matters in another room; but if you speak, speak out, and make no mysteries about anything. In severe illness the nurse must watch her patient steadily, but not seem to be looking. In convalescence it frequently soothes the invalid to have the nurse seated at the window, apparently looking out. This frees the faculties from the tension that the sense of being watched usually gives.

Health and Happiness.
[Minneapolis Housekeeper.]

We hear of "happy" invalids, but we could never work up much faith in them. Patient, self-contained and outwardly cheerful they may be and often are; but a being in pain can't be happy—it's a falsehood against nature to assert it. Allowing for all outside circumstances, this general rule holds good. We must be healthy to be happy, and we must be happy to be healthy. The two are halves of one circle; but you can't tell where the one ends and the other begins.

If headaches and dyspepsia and nervousness and weakness were swept away, nine-tenths of our troubles and heart-burnings would be gone. On the other hand, an "iron" constitution cannot long withstand the ravages of grief and melancholy. If you are sad, look to your stomach; if you are not well, seek more cheerful surroundings in addition to your hygienic measures.

DISTRESS IN CHICAGO.

To get rid of the distress caused by such an intruder as rheumatism is one of the puzzles of the present age. Happily the new and popular remedy—Athlophoros—has come to the relief of this distress, and it finds its way into the homes of sufferers, not only through the drug stores, but at the hands of the medical faculty.

A correspondent while passing through Chicago, called on Dr. H. W. Joy, who is well known as one of the county physicians charged with the beneficent duty of relieving the distress of the poor. In addition to this work Dr. Joy has an extensive practice of his own. It had come to the knowledge of our correspondent that Dr. Joy was making use of Athlophoros, and had met with success with it in treating rheumatism and neuralgia.

Calling on Dr. Joy at his office, corner of State and Harrison streets, he found the doctor very busy with a procession of patients who were seeking relief from various ailments. He also found the Doctor quite willing to converse on the subject, and to give Athlophoros full credit for what it had done in conquering these troublesome diseases.

Said Doctor Joy: "Within the past year I have given Athlophoros a very fair trial among sufferers by rheumatism, some of whom were old people and had been troubled with the disease for a long time. I have also used it in cases that were not of such long standing. My experience has been that it is uniformly successful, and that it surpasses all medicines I have ever seen for expelling rheumatism from the system. My first acquaintance with it was from a sample bottle which was left at the house. It occurred to me to make an experiment with this, and the experiment was so successful that I determined to make regular use of the medicine. In some cases it acts immediately, in others not so quickly, but in all cases surely. I have never yet been disappointed in it. It is not an opiate to lull pain, as morphine does, but it carries away the cause of the pain, which is far better. I cannot see that it leaves any mischievous effects, as morphine and other opiates do. Sometimes after the first relief I have to administer Athlophoros again, and keep on for a while, notably in cases in which the malady is of long standing. But in many cases I have found the cure both speedy and permanent.

"As to neuralgia, I have not had so many cases, but enough to assure me of the value of Athlophoros in overcoming it. I have the highest confidence in this medicine, and shall continue to use it. I have no hesitancy in using, in my practice, anything which I find powerful to do what I want—namely, to cure disease."

Mr. M. Tilton, who transacts business at 164 La Salle street, had been a sufferer from rheumatism, and was found at his office.

Said Mr. Tilton: "I have indeed suffered greatly with rheumatism; my sufferings extending over a long series of years. My feet and hands were distorted and my joints were extremely painful. I had tried all the remedies I knew of. Some of them did no good at all, while some gave partial and temporary relief. I at last tried the new remedy, Athlophoros, and I am very free to say that this produced a rapid change. Athlophoros is the best medicine in the world. At first I was a little nauseated by it, but I was not discouraged, for from the very first I felt that it was acting on me with marked effect. The continued use of it drove out all the pain of rheumatism and all the distortions and swellings. Now I am as well as ever, and am, as you see, able to attend to business regularly.

"My wife had rheumatism, and was cured by a bottle of Athlophoros. My daughter, who is a fine pianist, was troubled with rheumatic pains, which settled in the ends of her fingers, enlarging the joints and making it almost an impossibility for her to play on the piano. Half a bottle of Athlophoros was all she took. The rheumatism left her, and she was able to resume her piano practice as before.

My brother-in-law has been cured of rheumatism by it. One friend who had sciatica at first thought that Athlophoros was doing him no good. But he persevered, and soon obtained relief."

Yesterday morning at 5:40 o'clock, the groom landed at the Center avenue fire "with both feet," and was as lively as the liveliest, pitching into the smoke and fire with old time activity.

THE FIRE AT MONTEREY.

Extraordinary Quick Time by Our Fire Department.

Yesterday (Sunday) morning at 5:40 o'clock an alarm of fire was telephoned to the fire department by Mr. Paul Rudolph, at the corner of Center and Western avenue, Monterey. The firemen were all in bed and asleep, but they "caught on" and made the quickest time, for a long run, yet recorded in this city. The fire was in the building owned by McKey Bros., on the opposite corner from Mr. Rudolph's store, and is a little over a mile from the Milwaukee street bridge, half the distance being up grade. Mr. Ferdinand Schumaker, who first discoved the fire and called Mr. Rudolph to give the alarm, timed the department, and in just eight minutes from the time Mr. Randolph rang his telephone to call the central office, engine company No. 1 struck the corner of Center and Western avenue "with both feet," with engine No. 2 and the hook and ladder company not over one or two blocks away. The boys feel proud of this good time, declaring it to be as quick as any department in the west can make.

As stated above the fire was in the building owned by McKey Bros., the west store being unoccupied, and the east store occupied by Ald. elect. Ben. George, as a meat market. The fire was in the unoccupied store, and evidently was the work of an incendiary. Owing to the prompt arrival of the fire department, the damage to the building was very trifling, not over one hundred dollars. The fire was set on the floor against the lath-and-plaster partition, about half way back from the front door, and had burned a hole some two feet in circumference in the floor, and up the partition to the garret, destroying two or three of the studdings. The building was full of smoke, and the department flooded the lower floor, dampening the blaze in double quick time. The building was insured with Dimock & Hayner.

Death of Constable John H. Taylor

Constable John H. Taylor, of the first ward, died at noon to-day, at his home 59 North Chatham street, first ward. Deceased had been ailing for over a year, and since last December had been confined to his home and bed. At times he was reported very low, rallying again, his friends entertained hopes that he would ulmately recover. But a few days ago he was able to sit up; yesterday he suddenly commenced to grow worse, and finally, his disease, the softening of the brain, conquered, and he quietly passed away at noon to-day. Deceased had been constable of the first ward for a number of years, was well and favorably known in this city, and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his death. He was 65 years of age at the time of his demise. The funeral will be held at the house, at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Temperance.

The April snow storm of yesterday afternoon did not prevent a goodly attendance at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian association, and the programme, which the ladies of the Woman's Christian temperance union presented, was found to be both pleasant and profitable. The president, Mrs. Kinney, presided, and the first half hour was devoted to responsive and concert exercises of an interesting nature. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. F. Brown, and short addresses delivered by Revs. Dr. Hodge, A. J. Van Wagner, and J. F. Connover. The former complimented the ladies on their persistent efforts and untiring zeal, and assured them of his hearty sympathy and co-operation. Mr. Van Wagner spoke in a happy vein, as coming to them as a stranger, yet willing to be committed on questions of temperance and moral reform, and pledging aid and support as opportunity might offer.

Dr. Conover spoke particularly to the young men who were well represented in the audience, and by illustration, and a few well timed words, pressed upon them the importance of total abstinence.

The programme was liberally interspersed with music, and the meeting was in every sense successful. The ladies composing the Janesville branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union are devoting their time and energies to a class of temperance work that is practical, and that has within its range the unfolding of true temperance reform. "Keep the fountain pure," is one of their mottoes, and their efforts in this direction merit the sympathy, and help of all good people, who realize in any degree the fact that the boys and girls of to-day, will be the men and women in the near future, who shall have to deal with these responsible questions.

The ladies are entitled to the presence, and moral support of representative men from the various churches, at their public meetings.

Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice, Hostetter's Bitters.

THE NEW JERSEY JACKET.

I.

How dear to my heart is the new Jersey jacket,
A well-moulded figure 'twas made to adorn.
I'm sure, as an elegant, close-fitting sacque, it
Lays over all garments I ever have worn.
Oh, my! with delight it is driving me crazy:
The feelings that thrill me no language may tell.
Just look at its color! Oh, ain't it a daisy,
The new Jersey jacket that fits me so well?
The close-fitting jacket, the crimson-hued jacket,
The new Jersey jacket that fits me so well.

II.

It clings to my shoulders so tightly and neatly;
Its fair rounded slopes show no wrinkle or fold;
It puts this plump figure of mine as completely
As if I'd been melted and poured in its mould.
How fertile the mind that was moved to design it.
Such rhythm pervades each depression and swell!
The waist would entice a strong arm to entwine it—
The waist of the Jersey that fits me so well!
The crimson hued Jersey jacket, the close-fitting Jersey,
The new Jersey jacket that fits me so well.

III.

Of course I will wear it to parties and dances,
And gentlemen there will my figure admire:
The ladies at me will throw envious glances,
And that's just the state of affairs I desire;
For feminine envy and male admiration
Proclaim that their object's considered a belle.
Oh thou art of beauty the fair consummation,
My new Jersey jacket that fits me so well.
The black braided jacket, the close fitting jacket,
The new Jersey jacket that fits me so well.

Auction Sale of Dry Goods.

The firm of McKey Bro's announce in another column of this paper, that they will commence on Wednesday of this week, the sale at auction of their entire stock of goods in the store at the corner of West Milwaukee and River streets. The well known and popular auctioneer, Mr. P. B. Bell, has been engaged to sell the goods under the hammer. This sale will be one of the most interesting of any that has taken place in Janesville for a long time and will furnish an excellent opportunity for the people to stock up with goods at their own prices. The sale will close up the dry goods business of McKey & Bros. in this city. The stock now consists of a large assortment of goods embracing articles in every branch of the dry goods trade all of which will be knocked down to the highest bidder aft or Wednesday next We are of the opinion that the McKey establishment will draw equally as well as a first class roller rink during this sale.

A Wonderful Story.

Consumptives and all, who suffer from any affection of the throat and lungs, can find a certain cure it Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Thousands of permanent cures veryfy the truth of this statement. No medicine can show such a record of wonderful cures. Thousands of once hopeless sufferers now gratefully proclaim they owe their lives to this new discovery. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. Free trial bottles at F. Sherer and Co's drug store. Large size, $1.00.

French Blueing.

The residents of the first ward will call to mind an old man who paid them a friendly visit last winter in the interest of a superior blueing which he displayed from an innocent looking little tin box, which he was willing to part company with for the modest sum of 25 cents for half a dozen balls about the size of a hazel nut. After hearing the old man's story, which had a good deal to do with the early history of the Bower City, in which he lost an arm, running it through a threshing machine, and contracted various other bodily ailments of a more serious nature, the good people of the ward took compassion on him and invested liberally in French blueing, being assured that one small lump tied up in a cloth and hung over the side of a tub would immediately transform the kitchen into an azure blue.

Time unravels many mysteries, but at the latest reports blue coated chalk had failed to make any material change on the Monday's washing. If the French nation have any particular use for French blueing, they ought to keep it at home. The ladies of the first ward are too moral to indulge in even mild profanity, but some of their husbands have been known to swear a blue streak after a vain effort to extract a little color out of a twenty-five cent investment in French blueing.

An End to Bone Scraping

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctor told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by F. Sherer & Co.

A Word to Boys.

The average boy at the age of sixteen is an aimless, restless mortal, having in him all the undeveloped possibilities of a grand future, yet indifferent to the trust. Life, with him; means one long holiday, free from care, with an ambition that only grasps the effort to have a good time. The current events hurries him along and launches him out into the great sea of human responsibility, totally unprepared for any existance except the driftwood type which marks the career and molds the destiny of so many men who float about in society to day, possessing only the ability to drift. The boys and young men who line our streets by the score, neglecting every opportunity offered in the way of moral or intellectual culture, will be the men who will make our laws and assume the responsibilities of mature manhood before the close of the present century. Does it ever occur to you, boys, that life is a grand, and may be made a glorious field for human endeavor? The making of every man's record is a trust that is very largely placed in his own keeping. Intelligence, honesty and a good moral character, are three elements that are within the reach of every young man, and the possession of them, means more in the way of success, than capital of any other kind.

If you have at your disposal the opportunities for an education, and school life becomes monotonous and distasteful to you, try and settle down to a sober, thoughtful half-hour's glance at the future five years ahead. Many a man, in the prime of life, with its grave responsibilities pressing close about him, would give all his earthly possessions for another chance at the age and opportuties which now surround you. The foundation years for character building, are important years now at your disposal; don't allow them to glide away unimproved, as so many men have to their sorrow and intense regret. The world is full of medium men, men who possess the native, but lack the acquired ability to rise above the plain of simple existence. Out beyond this large class is the field of human possibility and success, with only here and there a worker. No truer word was ever written than the old adage "There is always room at the top," and the top is never crowded. Good competent men are always in demand in every department of life, prepare yourself for lofty climbing while you have the chance.

But some boy is saying, "well, that kind of advice is good enough for school boys, but it don't apply to me, for I have been out of school for a year, and never expect to go any more, for I have to work for a living."

Does it ever occur to you, boys, that a large percentage of the successful men of to-day came up from the ranks of boys in your condition?

Labor is dignified and commands respect everywhere. The channels open to skilled labor are as numerous as they are varied, and the reserved seats at the top in all these channels, are many of them unoccupied. The standing room is always in good demand and frequently crowded by men who are content to toil for a mere existence, but there's lots of vacant space just beyond the crowd where the work of hand and brain may carve a destiny, grand and sublime.

Keep out of the saloon, and away from the loafer brigade. Put yourself in the way of mental and moral culture, work and study to a purpose, and manhood will mean more to you than simple existence for "life is what we make it," and every boy his own architect.

A Baking Powder Trick.

All kinds of schemes and tricks are resorted to by unprincipled persons to obtain unfair advantages over their neighbors. The latest of these that has come to our notice is one by which certain manufacturers of baking powder have sought to prejudice consumers against the use of other brands that have an established reputation as the best and purest in the market, for the purpose of introducing their own. Their method, we are informed, is to heat a can of baking powder of a well known brand over a lamp or stove, when, if there is a gas given off having the odor of ammonia, the powder is condemned as being made of ammonia, and unfit for use. The prejudices of the unsuspecting are thus excited against the baking powder submitted to the so called test and the grocer who has a quantity of it on hand suffers a serious loss in consequence.

If the intelligent consumer will stop a moment to think, she will readily perceive that this "test" if successful, proves nothing but the superiority of the baking powder tested. The aim of all baking powder makers is to produce an article that shall most readily, under use, give off its leavening gas. The powder that does this with a moderate heat at the same time evolving the largest quantity is scientifically the best.

There is probably not an article prepared for food that cannot be manipulated to prove that something is wrong about it; and, when a person goes into a kitchen or before a housekeeper who is not to be presumed to understand chemical relations, and performs an experiment of even the simplest character, it is not difficult to impress one that something awful is the matter. As to baking powders, we would suggest a dozen tests that would be as ridiculous in giving a fair idea of their relative merits to an uninstructed mind as the one here mentioned.

The true domestic value of a baking powder consists in its purity, wholesomeness, and leavening power. It is only the chemist, with his chemical appliances, who can determine these qualities, scientifically and exactly. Aside from this the best test for a baking powder is to try it in making bread, and see which makes the most and the best. To this practical test all the established brands have been put, and housekeepers have very generally made up their minds which they prefer, and the tricksters will find ultimately that a brand that has been a household favorite for years will not be displaced by reason of any tricks which they may show.
